THE BURBANK BANK ROBBERY

A Clever Capture and Prompt Conviction.

In our issue of a week ago, a brief account was given of the robbery of the State Bank at Burbank on the previous Tuesday night. Since then there have been a number of chapters added to the story and it has been proved that justice is not always leaden heeled. The following Thursday evening about 8 o'clock, deputy constables Ogier of Glendale and Weaver of Burbank, encountered in the outskirts of that place a young man traveling toward Los Angeles with a well-laden grip sack. After some questioning the officers concluded that his conduct was suspicious enough to warrant their searching him and his baggage. He was taken to the depot at Burbank. Constable Catlin was sent for and when the bag was opened, a complete outfit of burglar's tools, powder and other appliances of the trade was discovered. The officers hurried the prisoner to Los Angeles without getting much information from him. He proved to be a youth of 17 named D. W. Moore, and after he was put behind the bars was induced by Sheriff Hammell to tell his story, which was to the effect that he had come from San Francisco on the Santa Rosa on Jan. 4th, and landing at San Pedro had accidentally run across a man named Smith who had been kind to him and after sharing a room with him in Los Angeles, had prevailed upon him to commit this and other robberies. They had gone out to Burbank Tuesday eevning, broke into the bank and attempted to blow open the safe without success. They did, however get something over $80 in the cash changer. After the robbery they went on the Southern Pacific train to San Fernando where they staid all night and returned to Los Angeles in the morning. On Thursday, Moore went to Burbank to recover the valise which had been hidden under a culvert, and it was here that he came to grief. After hearing this story Sheriff Hammill verified a portion of it by sending to the lodging house where Moore said he and his partner (Smith) had roomed, and found that Mr. Smith had left that morning. The same afternoon a lawyer called at the jail accompanied by another man who wanted to see the prisoner. The sheriff thought he recognized the man with the attorney as the partner of Moore, and immediately arrested him. He proved to be the second burglar and he, too, made a confession, stating that he was ready to go right into court and admit his guilt. On Monday the two prisoners in charge of Sheriff Hammil and Constable Catlin, were taken to Burbank for trial before Judge Melrose, where the facts were developed as above. The judge placed the prisoners under $3000 bail. On Wednesday, Smith, who says he is 24 years old, was brought up before Judge Willis in the Superior court, plead guilty and was sentenced to some twelve years in San Quentin. Moore was sent to the reform school at Ione for detention until he is twenty-one. It is rarely that a case of this kind is wound up so completely in so brief a time as this; less than eight days having elapsed between the robbery and the passing of the sentence. It was reported that the robbers had designs upon the First National Bank of Glendale, but of this there is some doubt. The style of safes in both of our Glendale banks is such as to afford but little encouragement to even first-class burglars, to which class the Burbank robbers cannot with any justice claim to belong. A great deal of credit is due to Messrs. Ogier and Weaver for their prompt and intelligent action and to Sheriff Hammill for his arrest of the principal offender.

EUGENE PITCHER.

Mr. Eugene Pitcher, only son of Anson and Flora Pitcher, died at his home in Glendale on Sunday, Jan. 3d, after a long illness. He was born in Lewiston, Maine, May 12th, 1872.

Mr. Pitcher was a man of more than ordinary attainments. Besides being naturally bright, he was a student with deep application. When he graduated from the Los Angeles High school, he easily led his class and carried off first honors. He received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from the University of California in 1895, and later on was given the degree of Master of Arts. He was for a time instructor in Latin at the University, and during this period was offered a Harvard scholarship in Latin and Philosophy. Mr. Pitcher accepted the Latin scholarship and had nearly completed the Doctor's degree at Harvard when his health failed, and he was compelled to give up further study.

For a few years after this he was able to teach and held positions in some of the best high schools in the state, but was finally compelled to give up in order to regain his broken health. Mr. Pitcher gave up his life work about seven years ago. Coming to Glendale, he sought to regain his broken health. Here, in an ever-widening circle of friends, he was recognized as a man of high attainments, and the wifely devotion of Mrs. Pitcher was well known, for the care of two little sons did not lessen her patience and consideration for the sick husband.

Gene, as he was known to his friends, had a loving and kind disposition. During his many years of sickness he was most patient and considerate of all those about him.

The funeral services were held from St. Mark's Episcopal Chapel, Rev. Fackenthal reading the Episcopal burial service, and the chapel choir rendered special hymns.

Honor was shown the deceased in the great masses of beautiful flowers heaped upon and beneath the casket, and filling the chancel rail. The University sent a great wreath tied with his class colors, silver and blue; St. Mark's Guild and the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club, in both of which his wife is an honored member, sent great floral pieces. Many large sprays of pure lilies, of roses and a pillow of violets were among the blossoms sent to attest respect for the dead, and to offer comfort to the sorrowing wife.

The remains were laid to rest in the Odd Fellows cemetery, Los Angeles.

At a late hour a most delicious salad course was served.

"MAKING ANOTHER EFFORT FOR GAS IN GLENDALE AND TROPICO.

"Another effort is being made to supply the citizens of Glendale and Tropico with gas. The matter this time is in the hands of several of the leading citizens, and the arrangements have reached a point where it is said the success of the plan is dependent merely on the ability of the citizens to obtain the signatures of a certain number of persons to an agreement to take the gas.

"The men at the head of the project are Frank Campbell, a director in the bank of Glendale; J. F. McIntyre, cashier in the same bank; D. Griswold, a director in the First National bank of Glendale, and A. W. Gordon, a constructing engineer. These men say that their enterprise has no connection with the California Gas Circuit company, which was organized about two years ago, and which is said to be again offering stock for sale, other than that some of the men at the head of the new proposition are stockholders in the old.

"These men took stock in the California Gas Circuit company when it was organized, and induced several of their friends to do likewise. About two miles of mains were laid, but beyond that it is claimed little or nothing has been done. Recently Mr. Campbell, and his associates took up the matter with a view of trying to devise some plan for furnishing those towns with gas, and employed Mr. Gordon to make an estimate of the cost of a plant. Mr. Gordon reported that $50,000 would be required, and it was figured out that it would require about 500 consumers, at $1.25 for the first 1000 feet of gas and $1 for each additional 1000, to justify this initial expenditure. Signatures to an agreement of this kind are now being obtained.

"The men in charge of the matter say that they are willing to turn these subscribers over to the California Gas Circuit company in case that corporation can give some assurances that it will go ahead with the work. In case it cannot do this, it is probable an independent company will be formed. The point is, the people of Glendale and Tropico want a gas supply, and are willing to place it within the means of any responsible company to furnish it."

The above is from The Los Angeles Express of recent date. We are glad to add that the contracts being circulated have been signed by something over 700 consumers. As Messrs. Campbell, Griswold and Mulatt[illegible] so well and favorably known in the community, we feel assured that they will fulfill any agreement that they make and that this community will soon be supplied with gas.

OPEN LODGE MEETING.

The Fraternal Brotherhood held an open lodge meeting Friday evening for the installation of newly elected officers in their lodge room in Odd Fellows hall. General Adolph, head of the Uniform rank of the order, was present and represented the Supreme lodge in the installation ceremonies, assisted by Supreme Sergeant Weaver of Los Angeles.

The following officers were installed: President, George W. Benson; vice president, Alex Mitchell; secretary, C. O. Pulliam; treasurer, C. H. Cushing; chaplain, Mrs. Julia Benson; sergeant, John Smalley; mistress at arms, Miss Frances Riem; physicians, Drs. D. W. Hunt and A. L. Bryant; musician, Miss Mabel Benson; doorkeepers, Mrs. C. O. Pulliam and Mr. Benson. After the ceremonies were concluded, Mr. J. C. Sherer, retiring president, was called to the platform and on behalf of his fellow members Mr. Alex Mitchell in an appropriate speech presented to him an elegant Past Masters badge, appropriately inscribed, as a token of appreciation for his five years' service as president of the lodge. Mr. Sherer responded in a feeling manner and said a few words in regard to the practical application of the principles of the order. There was a large attendance of visitors and members present and the evening's enjoyment wound up with a dance.

Mrs. E. M. Graham-Foster has moved to Glendale from Los Angeles where she has been engaged for some years past as a first-class dressmaker and has opened parlors at Central avenue and Hawthorne street.

CHANGE IN STREET NUMBERS.

Owing to the diagonal street lines which make it impossible to number houses satisfactorily in that section, on present system, there is to be a new system of numbering adopted within the bounds of the territory embraced by the following streets: First to Sixth street and Isabel to Cedar. The change will only affect the numbering on streets running east and west, however.

Glendale's latest is a beauty! Of course we mean the Stylus. Buy, beg or borrow the first number, just out, the work of the local printery.

Mr. A. W. Collins, president of High School Board of Education; Mr. Daniel Campbell and Mr. E. D. Goode, have granted to the pupils of the Sixth Street school permission to use the grounds of the new High School for baseball and other athletic purposes until grounds are needed by High School pupils.

A fire drill, most unexpectedly given on Wednesday, emptied the Sixth Street school in considerably less than a minute. The boys consider the long lines of hose the proudest possession of the school.

The Boys' Athletic club of the Fourth Street grammar school gave a very good entertainment at Odd Fellows' hall, Tuesday night. The program was furnished by the William Wright Musical company and proved thoroughly enjoyable to a very fair audience.

If the snake that located himself on the lower steps of the girls' basement had planned a furore, he was greatly disappointed, for Miss Leita McCoy, the self-possessed young lady who discovered him Tuesday noon, reported him to the superintendent, who straightway had his snakeship carried out and killed. He measured nearly two feet.

NECK TIE SOCIAL.

The Neck Tie social given by the ladies of St. Mark's church, last Monday evening, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Hunt, was a most enjoyable affair. There was a large attendance, filling the pleasant rooms of the lately completed home of the host and hostess, who exerted themselves successfully to provide an evening of enjoyment for their guests. Miss Ward played several selections on the piano during the evening in a manner that merited and received most hearty applause. The McIntyre brothers gave selections on the trombone and clarionet which showed unusual proficiency for such young performers. Miss Hunt and Mr. Clarence Pack furnished an instrumental duet, piano and violin. Much amusement was furnished by the misfits and inharmonies in neckties which were worn by the purchasers who contributed their dimes to the cause represented by the ladies of St. Mark's. In the doctor's office a "Chamber of Horrors" was maintained during a portion of the evening which at ten cents per, proved a fascinating and irresistible attraction to many of the guests. Coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts were the refreshments, and the corner where they were served by the ladies, was not the least attractive feature, if there were any lesser ones, during the evening.

REAL ESTATE MOVING.

A number of pieces of property have changed hands in this vicinity during the past week. Mr. Walker has purchased the lot on the corner of Fourth street and Kenwood, the southwest corner, of Dr. Burtt.

In the neighborhood of Lomita Park several transactions have taken place. E. J. Hickman sold house and lot on Maple street adjoining Mr. Muhleman on the west.

Mr. Brigham sold four lots on Brand Boulevard, east of the old Hobbs place, a triangular piece, for which it is understood he received $2500.

E. N. Munson has sold house and lot on the south side of Maple street.

The Sprague property on Central avenue north of Park, a 13-acre piece mostly in orange trees, has been sold to the Goodwin Realty company and will be subdivided. The Alder property on Central avenue is said to have changed hands, but we have no particulars.

Anson Pitcher is going to subdivide his property, a two-acre lot on the southeast corner of Second and Adams street.

There is promise of considerable activity along the line of the new car line to Eagle Rock and rumors of two or three proposed subdivisions are current.

LIVING PICTURES.

Wdnesday, Feb. 3d, is the date set for the entertainment to be given in Masonic hall under auspices of the Presbyterian Woman's Aid Society. With the presentation of each picture appropriate music will be rendered by good soloists, and fine players of various instruments. Mrs. M. H. Anderson will furnish orchestral numbers. Prominent church workers and young people of the valley are to participate. Glendale's "rosebud garden of girls" will be greatly in evidence, and tiny tots will appear as real fairies. The pictures will probably be "America," "California," "Glendale," "Native Sons and Daughters," "Wher Are You Going, Pretty Maid?", "Crowning the May Queen," "Annie Laurie," "Red Riding Hood," "Shepardesses," "Three Graces," "Japanese Tea Girls," and "Colonial Days."

Tickets are twenty-five cents and fifteen cents to the "living pictures" art exhibit at Masonic Hall, February 3d.

Splendid inspiring music, patriotism, progress and pretty girls. What more could one ask. February 3d.

A PRETTY ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mrs. A. W. McIntyre on Saturday afternoon from two until five, at the home on Isabell street, entertained the entire faculty of the Fourth and Sixth street schools, with a very pretty thimble party for her daughter, who for three years has been a popular teacher in the Grammar school.

Exquisite roses and the delicate greenery of smilax were prettily employed in decorative profusion. Following a very happy hour guests were invited to the table, there to find individual trays on which were discovered the place cards in the form of hand-painted hearts, the design wrought in pink or red roses and inside, bearing the names Annie L. McIntyre—Charles G. Crawford.

The surprise was complete, and congratulations were poured upon the prospective bride. Mr. Crawford is a resident of New Brunswick, Canada.

Those present were Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, principal Fourth street school; Miss Ida M. Waite, principal Sixth street school; Miss Francis Hendershott, Miss Mary Ohearne, Serena Christensen, Maude Howlett, Maude Rivenburgh, Lucile Shultz, Lois Hatch, Mrs. Mary Anderson of Los Angeles, Miss Helen Best, Pasadena; Mrs. T. C. Miles, Montana, and Mrs. F. W. McIntyre, Mrs. J. F. McIntyre and Mrs. C. C. Campbell.

NUMBER YOUR HOUSES.

The following letter explains itself:

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 19th, 1909.

Thos. W. Watson, Pres. Board of Trustees, Glendale, Cal.

My Dear Sir: I beg to hand you herewith letter of superintendent of delivery, this office, advising that we are about to extend the benefits of metropolitan city free delivery service to your city, and requesting that sign posts be placed at all street intersections of your city, and the houses be numbered in accordance with the numbers established by the office of the City Engineer.

Will you kindly give this matter your very prompt attention, as the city delivery service is to be established February 1st, and it is necessary that the proper numbering of houses and the street intersection signs be immediately placed.

Very respectfully,

M. H. FLINT, Postmaster.

(The letter referred to is from Julius Janssen, Supt. Del., requesting Postmaster Flint to write the letter quoted.)

COUNTRY CLUB NOTES.

Third Monday Musicale.

The third Monday afternoon was a pronounced social success as given in the rooms of the Country Club, under auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary, with Mrs. John N. Metcalf, Burckett street, as chairman, assisted in receiving by Mrs. Harry L. Howe, Burkett street, and Mrs. E. V. Parker.

Following reception of guests was a daintily rendered musicale, each number a delight, all worthy of special mention, perhaps the little French song of chaminades more than any other, the uplifting influence of exquisite selections put the fifty guests in a delightfully happy mood for the afternoon. Those to whom thanks were due for the music weer Mrs. Anna Metcalf Hecker, and Mrs. A. P. Metcalf, soloists, accompanied respectively by Miss Reese and Miss Marie Metcalf; Miss Ethel Parker and Miss Florence Parker, soloists and instrumental players. Members held a short and important business session on the same afternoon.

HOO-DOO?

The indomitable Hoo-Doos on Friday night held down the house of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McCombs, Mary street, until the midnight curfew sent some of them home, for some of them reached their destination, one or two evaporated, like John Uri Lloyd's "Wafted Wife of Sam Hill" and one—went back. The honor guest to witness the occasion was Miss Conn of Newark, Ohio, a schoolmate, accustomed to the idiosyncrasies of the hostess.

One there was who, tired of listening to his mother's voice, proposed as a toast, "Why the Hole in the Doughnut?" They made him play whist with the rest.

The "fisherman's hornpipe" found a new and lively advocate and then coffee went 'round. Next time the Hoo-Doos convene at "The Towers" where the grave danger of being locked up must be obviated by proper Hoo-Doo behavior.

THE NEW RAILROAD.

Grading for the roadbed of the new electric line between Eagle Rock and Glendale is going on rapidly. When a reporter visited the scene on Wednesday last, he found six four horse scrapers and a plow team at work opposite Mr. Benson's place; the grade being nearly completed east of there. The ties for the road are expected daily and will be delivered at Glendale avenue by the Salt Lake road. It is probable that the road from the top of the hill up to Glendale city limits will be widened to 100 feet; it is 120 at the Eagle Rock end. The rain storm now prevailing will, of course, cause some little delay to the work.

To Masons

Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. & A. M., extends a cordial invitation to all the Masons in the valley to be present at the visit of the traveling Masonic trowel on Tuesday evening, February 2d.

Mayor Harper is to be recalled—maybe.

We want the increase the subscription list to the NEWS, and will pay any of our young people (or older ones) a liberal percentage on new subscribers secured. Call and see about it.

John W. Kern has just been defeated in his aspirations to a place in the U. S. Senate, from Indiana, by a combination of the temperance and brewery elements, and Shively, the choice of the brewers, elected.

The members of the Democratic party who voted unanimously in congress the other day to allow Mr. Willett to continue his disgraceful tirade against the President, lost another opportunity of swapping partisanship for decency.

One-fourth of the High School children of the state live in Los Angeles county, and to this county is apportioned 22 per cent. of the state school funds for secondary schools, or $51,776.60. Of this amount, Glendale receives $1082.72.

The "Big Stick" has once more done good and effectual service in cooling the ardor of the Sacramento statesmen who were loaded with anti-Japanese resolutions. The thanks of Californians generally should be extended to the President for protecting them from any shadow of responsibility for the acts of Grove Johnson and a few other representatives who cannot see beyond the boundaries of the state, and mistake the expressions of a few vigorous extremists for the voice of the people.

We notice that Supervisor Nellis also has a brother-in-law to be taken care of. It would be interesting to know how many brother-in-laws are being taken care of by county officials at county expense.

We suggest for the consideration of the supervisors the creation of a fund for the support of needy brother-in-laws, they could be taken care of with proper regard for their high connections, and it would be cheaper for the taxpayers who might then know where to find them.

In opposing the motion to expel George B. Anderson from the assembly chamber at Sacramento, for no other offence than trying in a proper manner to ascertain why a certain member had absented himself at roll call on the anti-gambling race-track bill, Assemblyman Cogswell did just what we expected of him. Mr. Cogswell is an independent representative of the people and can be depended upon to do the right thing. Beardslee, Leeds and the rest of the "push" can also be depended on—to do the other thing.

ROOSEVELT TESTS THE TEST.

To prove that the endurance test prescribed for officers of the army and navy, which consists of a ninety mile horseback ride within three days, is not unduly severe, President Roosevelt, accompanied by three companies, recently rode from the White House to Warrenton, Va., and return in one day, the distance being 98 miles. It was a January day, too, with alternating rain, snow and sleet. Three relays of horses were used and when the President returned to the White House about 8 o'clock at night, he remarked that he never felt better in his life.

CREDIT TO WHOM DUE.

A few weeks ago we called upon the Pacific Electric company to come forward and pay their proportion of the expense of improving Brand Boulevard, even although not required by law to do so. We suggested that it would be an eminently proper and graceful thing for that corporation to show by doing this that they are not in Glendale for the sole purpose of getting everything possible out of this community, but are willing to bear their share of the burden that the spirit of progress imposes. We do not fancy that this call reached the ears of Mr. Huntington or Mr. Harriman, but still there is a possibility that the mental suggestion, falling in with a thought wave traveling in the proper direction, coming in contact with one or the other of these potent gentlemen at the psychological moment, did produce results! Anyhow it gives us pleasure to note that the railroad company has paid for the curbing along its right of way on Brand Boulevard, a sum amounting to over $1200. This brings the expense for the improvement of that thoroughfare down about to what the abutting property owners at first figured on. It is certainly gratifying to note this evidence of fair dealing on the part of the Pacific Electric company. We now believe it to be very probable that this company will within a short time lower its track within the city limits, where it is above the street grade, and improve the road bed and their right of way to conform to the rest of the street.

THE POE CENTENNIAL.

The 100th anniversary of the birth of Edgar Allen Poe was celebrated on the 19th at the University of Virginia, where for a time during his youth he was a student, the celebration extended over four days. At various places in the world the anniversary was celebrated with the ceremonies that indicate the honor which the world is ever ready to pay to that rare quality in the human kind—genius. For critics no longer dispute the claims of Edgar Allen Poe to that high attribute. Appreciation of his work increases with acquaintance and his fame will spread rapidly when that time arrives that the lovers of real literature tire of modern mediocrity, the product of mere culture and talent, and turn back to the products of those writers who live only in the masterpieces of poetry and prose which they have bequeathed to succeeding generations. In both poetry and prose, Poe ranks easily among the first of America's writers. His poetry possesses that subtle something which no mere writer of verse ever exhibits, and which marks the works of genius so unmistakably that no imitation can successfully counterfeit. But his prose is equally great, whether one chooses to examine critically either his wonderful essays, criticisms or works of fiction. His critical papers are probably unsurpassed in any of the work of that class. He seemed inspired with an infallible insight into the workings of the human mind. He was a contemporary of Longfellow, Bryant, Whittier, Holmes, Emerson, Lowell and others who lived to a green old age and enriched the world with the product of their pens, while he was taken away in his prime. All of these writers were just emerging into the sunlight of fame when Poe as a magazine writer in the capacity of critic, wrote down his impressions and opinions of them all. And in every case, his verdict upon their first work was as unerringly true as if he had the whole product of their lives to judge them by! Two score years instead of four score was the period of life allotted to this gifted mortal. While essentially a poet, fate prevented him from devoting to poetry the best efforts of his brief life. In a preface to his poems he wrote, "Events not to be controlled, have prevented me from making at any time any serious effort in what, under happier circumstances, would have been the field of my choice. With me poetry has been, not a purpose, but a passion." His life was one of unusual trial and sadness and even after his death there were enemies who survived. He has left to the world no great work by which to judge him, but he has left enough to mark him as one possessing in most eminent degree the "Divine afflatus." His songs were all in a minor key; this one might well have been his epitaph:

"My tantalized spirit
Here blandly reposes,
Forgetting or never regretting its roses—
Its old agitation
Of myrtle and roses."

Correspondence

Editor Glendale News:

In your issue of January 9th, I note the following in the report of city trustees:

"A petition from the residents of Louise street asking that the Jacaranda be the official street tree for the east side of that street and the Black Acacia for the west side, was received and the city attorney instructed to prepare a resolution in accordance with the same."

Under Sec. 2 of Ordinance No. 88 we find that property holders shall select any approved variety of shade tree for any given street and that the "total frontage in one block is defined to be the combined frontage of both sides of any street between the two nearest intersecting streets, or the combined frontage of both sides of any street between an intersecting street and the end of such street."

From this it appars that the planting of Louise street is not in accordance with the ordinance and as no mention is made of any special permit in this case the writer would like to know why this is allowed and how far this heterogeneous planting is to be carried and spoil the uniformity of effect of Glendale streets.

All interested in street tree planting should read notes by our former townsman, Ernest Braunton, in the City Beautiful department of Jan. 10, magazine section of the Los Angeles Times.

AT SACRAMENTO.

In the assembly, anti-racetrack legislation goes along smoothly as was expected. The Otis bill was reported favorably by the assembly committee and may by this time have passed that body and gone over to the senate, where the real fight will occur. There seems to be some rejoicing among the friends of the measure over the progrss made, but it is nothing but the expected that has occurred and enthusiasm might as well be conserved. The matter has not yet reached the interesting stage. Two-thirds of the members of the assembly are no doubt in favor of the proposed Otis measure which is practically the Hughes bill as passed in New York. As is the case in the congress of the United States, the assembly is nearer to the voters than is the senate and the members of that body, however lukewarm they may happen to be in regard to reform measures, can be won over to the right side with comparative ease by anything that can be construed as a popular demand, particularly so when they have a feeling that their action will settle nothing anyhow as in this case.

Considerable opposition has developed in the senate to Senator Thompson's bill allowing fruit handling organizations to be specially exempt from the operations of Cartwright's anti-trust law. Senator Wolf, assuming to speak for the consumers, thinks that fruit is high enough and is afraid it will go out of sight if the growers are permitted to maintain organizations for the purpose of controlling their products.

Several members of the judiciary committee are in favor of abolishing the Saturday half-holiday in public offices, and although office holders are naturally opposed to the change, the people at large would doubtless wish that portion of the committee to succeed in their effort—as the Saturday afternoon closing of public offices is an unmitigated nuisance as far as the patrons are concerned.

Our own Senator Savage who is always afraid somebody is going to libel him, has prepared a bill which proposes to make libel a felony, but no one else in inclined to take it seriously and the newspapers still will be allowed some leeway as far as this measure is concerned.

The most interesting development during the week was the action taken by President Roosevelt in calling off the anti-Japanese legislation which is fathered in the assembly by Representatives Grove Johnston and A. M. Drew. In a very temperate and convincing letter to Gov. Gillette, the President states that the agitation of the question can only work injury to both California and the nation at large as a very satisfactory arrangement has been entered into with Japan by which the number of natives of that country in the United States is gradually diminishing and there is not the remotest danger of an influx of the people of the island nation. Gov. Gillette immediately upon receipt of this letter conferred with Messrs. Drew, Johnston and other leaders and succeeded in getting action on the objectionable measures postponed for one week. It seems probable that they will die in committee, although there may be a display of fireworks before the obsequies, as Johnston promises to die hard. In connection with this subject the words of President Roosevelt in a speech made recently to the Diamond Jubilee mass meeting at the Metropolitan M. E. church in Washington, are appropriate:

"In addition to the square deal in our own country," he continued, "I want the Methodists and others to help me give the square deal to Japan. I will see to it that in doing this our own citizenship is protected.

"You know I am not a mere sentimentalist. I am not in the least afraid of invoking the 'big stick' if it is necessary, but I should be ashamed to invoke it unless it was necessary. And I want to see, while insisting on justice being done us, that we are equally careful to do justice to others. The National Government by agreement with the Japanese government, has been able to achieve a completely satisfactory solution of all possible difficulties, of all possible questions that could be at issue between our people and the Japanese people. It is only the Federal Government that can, with wisdom and propriety, deal with those questions; and I ask all good Americans to see to it that unwise men, foolish men, do not jeopardize, to their own harm and to the harm of the locality, the arrangement that there is now working out so satisfactorily to the Government of the United States and Japan."

Dr. J. O. Garmon of this place, announces himself as a candidate for the position of road foreman of this district. Mr. Garmon announces that if the people see fit to elect him he will, in the future as in the past, work for the general interest of this community, and good roads in particular.

Owing to illness in the home of Mrs. J. H. Seaman, the Thursday Afternoon club did not meet there as it was announced that it would. Instead, the meeting was held at the home of Mrs. F. C. Richardsan at the corner of Cypress and Central avenues. The subject for the day was "Art." Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, president of the Los Angeles District Federated Womans' clubs, was present and delivered an address. The program of the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. A. W. Collins.

The regular meeting of the Tropico Improvement Association will be held in Logan's hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 27th. It is very important that there should be a large attendance at this meeting, for there are several matters to come up that should have the attention and cooperation of every resident in the place. Heretofore the meetings of this association have been very poorly attended and it is only through the interest that several public spirited citizens have taken that the meetings are still being held. It has been very discouraging to Dr. J. O. Garmon, and others, to journey to the hall and find perhaps six or eight people there. But these pushers are determined that Tropico will make progress so they are doing everything in their power to help it.

The Union Bible class, which was held in the G. A. R. hall, Tuesday evening, was very well attended. Pastor Smale, of Los Angeles, was present after being absent for some time on account of illness. The first lesson on the Divine library proved very interesting. Meetings will be held Tuesday evening and it will be to the interest of all the valley people to attend.

Mrs. A. W. Collins planned a most charming and thoroughly enjoyable party to celebrate her daughter, Eleanor's eleventh anniversary when she gave a box party at the Auditorium, Saturday afternoon to a number of Eleanor's friends to witness "Cinderella." Those comprising the party whom Mrs. Collins chaperoned with Eleanor as honoree were Misses Katherine Hobbs, Mabel Evans, Hough Merl Murray, Dorothy Hobbs and Mary Evans-Hough; Masters Will Richardson, Merrill Blain, Donald Murray, Raymond Barker, Burt Richardson, Channing Follette and Harwood Collins.

Miss May Cornwell, Miss Crystal Waters and Miss Freda Borthick, members of the faculty of this school, attended the Symphony concert given in the Temple Auditorium, Wednesday afternoon.

Therese Tafford entered the eighth grade this week. Miss Tafford comes from Los Angeles. She is considered a very valuable addition to the school as she is a very able musician.

The girls of this school are playing with a will these days. Miss Sarah Miss Sarah McLean, girls' basketball instructor at the Glendale High School, spends some time each week training the Tropico team and she is hoping that in the near future a regular school team may be formed here which may make a favorable showing with the teams of nearby schools.

The mandolin trio of the school, composed of Charles Schick, Raymond Barker and Miss Mildred Jackson, are making rapid progress in their endeavor to have a musical organization in the school of which they will be proud. Miss Katherine Hobbs is the piano accompanist for the trio.

DINNER PARTY.

The first social event to occur at the handsome new home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Stephenson on Central avenue, was the dinner party given Sunday, by Mr. and Mrs. Stephenson to commemorate the sixteenth anniversary of their son, Dwight Stephenson, and the fourteenth anniversary of their niece, Miss Katherine Hobbs. A dainty arrangement of fragrant blossoms graced the center of the table while two large birthday cakes surmounted by tiny candles, indicating the respective ages of the guests of honor also adorned the table. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. West, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Logan, Mrs. M. Stephenson, Mrs. Janet Hobbs, C. C. West, Misses Dorothy Hobbs and Mary Logan.

THE ELECTION TODAY.

The election at Tropico this afternoon for road foreman promises to be an exceedingly warm affair. From Casa Verdugo to the Los Angeles river the territory has been assiduously worked by the candidates and a big vote will no doubt be cast. The candidates are J. B. Cathart, John W. Parker, W. R. Light and Dr. J. O. Garmon. Of course the election has no official standing and is only in the nature of a recommendation to Supervisor Pridham upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility for the appointment. He has promised, however, to abide by the result.

J. W. DUTTON RETAKES POSSESSION.

E. A. Bennett, who several months ago bought his way into Tropico's East Side grocery, which has since been known as the Tropico Cash Grocery, has disposed of his interest to J. W. Dutton, who has now complete charge of the store. Hereafter this establishment will be known as the Dutton Grocery. Mr. Dutton is overhauling the place completely and it is being remodeled inside. The store is also being enlarged.

FREE DELIVERY REPORT FALSE.

While talking to the postoffice authorities this week we were informed that the report to the effect that Tropico would have a free mail delivery on or shortly after February 1st, is entirely false and that there was never any grounds for the statement.

THE WEATHER.

Tuesday and Wednesday a dense cold fog swept in from the ocean during a portion of the day, something which rarely occurs in this section, and Wednesday evening rain began to fall and was continuous during the night. The storm continued uninterruptedly during Thursday and it still rains as we go to press.

The total rainfall for the storm up to 8 a. m. Friday, as reported by Mr. H. E. Bartlett, of Brand boulevard, is 2.55 inches, making over 8 inches for the season, which is greater than the average.

W. Collins, Mrs. J. C. Sherer, Mrs. Charles Shattuck. From this board will the new set of officers for the ensuing year be chosen.

The basket auction given by these ladies netted $68.00. The baskets were very beautiful, very original and most deliciously filled. The flower baskets were especially pretty.

Installation of recently elected officers for Carnation Lodge, Order of Rebekas, took place on Wednesday evening, Odd Fellows' hall. Mrs. Bain and her installing team were present from Los Angeles. Those installed were noble grand, Mrs. Martha McClure; vice grand, Miss Zaida Sprinkle; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Rehart; corresponding secretary, Miss Maude Howlett; financial secetary, Mrs. Jennie Smith. Hot chocolate and dainty refreshments were served during the closing hour.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB, JANUARY 26TH.

Members of the club, who have noticed in their programs the subject for this date, are anticipating an afternoon full of enjoyment. It is to be a musical Day introducing America's folk-songs, and with such a happy combination of subject, material and committee, it is bound to be a success. Mrs. Fraley, assisted by Mrs. Moyse and Miss Emma Williams has the program in charge.

MISSIONARY SPEAKER.

Dr. Isett, of China, addressed a number of ladies and men of the Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. Frank Albright on Monday afternoon. Dr. Underwood of Korea was not able to be present. A solo was furnished by Miss A. J. Harris. In the evening there was a lecture by the same speaker in the Presbyterian church, when the speaker very eloquently and in great earnest, deeply impressed his audience. Mrs. Eva Banker rendered a solo.

WHIST MATINEE.

Tuesday afternoon was the time chosen by Mrs. Bellford for giving a whist matinee in her pretty home on Central avenue, North Glendale. Honored guests were Mrs. Moore and daughter, Mrs. Middleton of Akron, Ohio, and Mrs. Heney of Los Angeles. From Glendale there were Mrs. C. F. Parker, Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Batthis, Mrs. Kimball and Mrs. Stanton. Early spring blossoms lent an air of charm to the rooms, and the daintiest of spring refreshments were served.

CONCERT BY THE THREE LINKS CLUB.

This entertainment which is to come off tonight at Odd Fellows hall, promises to be something out of the ordinary and should be well patronized. The performers come to us with high recommendations and the proceeds will benefit the local lodge which is responsible for bringing them here, both of which are reasons.

ALBERHILL COAL

A SOUTHERN CALIF. PRODUCT ON THE MARKET

Southern California's Most Valuable Home Product is Creating Much Demand

No wonder Southern California is making such a wonderful gain in population. Year by year Southern California is steadily growing. Southern California is well known for her delightful climate and fertile lands which are the pride of the farmer. Year by year she is growing in the development of new products. To-day we see one of her most valuable products creating a great demand. This new home product is Alberhill coal which was discovered and is now being mined in Riverside County; this brings the people of Southern California a much better and cheaper coal than they have heretofore had.

The coal mines of the Alberhill Coal & Clay Company, sends out the news that they are developing such a quantity of this clean coal that it shall be only a matter of time when all of Southern California will be well supplied with this rich product, a grade of coal at a price at which is only two-thirds of the present price of coal now being supplied from Mexico and Utah points.

The mines of this company have been operated on a very extensive scale. A very high grade of fire clay is just under the coal vein and both coal and clay are being mined out of the same tunnel.

The coal is an excellent quality and burns up clean, making no clinkers; it is also a clean coal to handle and makes no soot—in other words it has proven that it is the cleanest and cheapest coal on the market in California. A large force of men are now employed at the coal mines and the company is wasting no time in doubling their output as the demand is becoming greater every day. The company is now making preparations to double their present capacity as quickly as possible as the demand for their coal from Los Angeles and other cities is tremendous. Large shipments are being made to different Southern California cities daily. The company is barring no expense to introduce this coal to all consumers in Southern California and is advertising very heavily in all sections. We firmly believe that the Alberhill coal will be consumed by all consumers of coal as it is certainly one of the finest coals ever marketed and one of the company's strong factors is the price being two-thirds less per ton than other coals.
